Double J Resources - Jennifer Smith, business manager

summary:

Needed an accounting system that integrated with their bookkeeping system, QuickBooks, so there wouldn't be any double entry.

Disbursement and JIB Manager Integrated Edition (DMIE)

problem:

Double J needed an oil and gas accounting system that could integrate with their bookkeeping system so there wouldn't be any double entry for their more than 100 wells that they operate.

To streamline their distribution process, Double J decided to use SherWare's Disbursement and JIB Manager Integrated Edition so that their oil and gas software could integrate directly with their QuickBooks company, stopping them from having to double-enter data each month and saving them from mistakes.

result:

Since using SherWare four years ago, Double J now has a more efficient system to handle their distributions each month. "The software program is affordable, easy to use and saves you time," said Jennifer Smith, business manager at Double J Resources.
